Minister for Forests, Dr. Dhal Singh Bisen has said that special attention would be paid to quality and marketing of medicinal plants produced by the farmers.

The cultivation of medicinal and aromatic plants would be made a more lucrative proposition to attract maximum farmers to it ,he said and added that special ambassadors would be appointed to educate farmers about suitability of lands for different varieties of medicinal plants. Bisen was delivering the inaugural address at the first training programme organized for medicinal plant growers at the Minor Forest Produces Processing and Research Center here rece
